    - Provide opportunities for all candidates to interact with diverse faculty and students.
- Avoid topics that have no bearing on job performance.
    - Ensure that everyone who will interact with candidates is aware of SMU's nondiscrimination policies and procedures and is sensitive to these issues in their conversations with candidates as well as in their interactions in departmental processes.
    - Consider providing copies of the "Faculty Interview Considerations" to all faculty, students and staff who may encounter candidates (p. 35). Only search committee members will be required to complete an Applicant Interview Evaluation Form (p. 39).

2. During the Campus Visit:
    - Create a welcoming environment; put the candidate at ease. Highlight the University's commitment to diversity.
    - Sell the job/the department/SMU/Dallas, the Southwest Region.
    - Give all candidates equal opportunity to describe their qualifications and interests in the position.
    - Ask questions about candidate's actual experience and past behavior rather than posing hypothetical questions.
    - Offer to introduce candidates to those in other departments with similar interests or situations and to potential colleagues/research partners. Follow up as appropriate.
    - Ask the candidate if there are other questions or other things they want to see or hear! You can't ask if they want to visit a Black church, but you can ask if they have questions about cultural institutions; and if they open the door, then ask if they want to go to the Hillel, or meet with faculty from the Spanish Department, etc. er than 138 w Tj 0.58 0 Td [-6 0 138.52 [ T-1

Subject: Reminder of Guidance for Published Nondiscrimination Statements

SMU updated its Nondiscrimination Statement in 2015 as part of the Resolution Agreement with the U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights. Pursuant to the agreement and in compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University's Nondiscrimination Statement reads:

> Southern Methodist University (SMU) will not discriminate in any employment practice, education program, education activity, or admissions on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status. SMU's commitment to equal opportunity includes nondiscrimination on the basis of sexual orientation and gender identity and expression. The Executive Director for Access and Equity/Title IX[1] Coordinator is designated to handle inquiries regarding the nondiscrimination policies, including the prohibition of sex discrimination under Title IX. The Executive Director/Title IX Coordinator may be reached at the Perkins Administration Building, Room 204, 6425 Boaz Lane, Dallas, TX 75205, 214-768-3601, accessequity@smu.edu. Inquiries regarding the application of Title IX may also be directed to the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights of the U.S. Department of Education.

Search Guidelines Summary

This summary of the SMU Faculty Search and Recruitment Guidelines has proven helpful to many universities for conducting effective searches that attract the best candidates from the most diverse pool possible.

1. The Search

   Committees need to do the most work here. /Span <

4. Campus Visits

- PREPARE a Welcome Packet (include cultural information, minority organizations and business information, etc. as applicable).
- INCLUDE A TOUR!!
- INCLUDE faculty from a related field, the same religious or ethnic group in the lunch.
- ALL faculty should review good hiring practices before the visit. DISCUSS diversity.
- REMEMBER everything you say or do must conform to SMU good hiring practices.
- IF A CANDIDATE VOLUNTEERS INFORMATION ABOUT A SPOUSE/PARTNER, offer information about regional employment.

5. Hiring

- FOLLOW-UP WITH PHONE CALLS, send requested materials (you can now offer all sorts of things).
- USE THE CHAIR, DEAN AND EVEN PROVOST to make phone calls to snag the best folks.

6. Welcome them when they arrive!

- IMMEDIATELY START A MENTORING PROGRAM.
- CREATE A RETENTION STRATEGY!
- MAKE THEM AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Variances from Standard Faculty Search Procedures

In exceptional cases, a rationale can be made to hire a faculty member without going through the regular search and recruitment process. Per policy, the recommended course of action for such cases is to hire a faculty member on a visiting faculty contract for a term or a year. During this time period, a national search would then commence, and the visiting faculty could apply for the open position. However, in exceptional circumstances, variances from these standard procedures may be acceptable after careful review by the Dean, IAE, the Diversity Office, and the Provost Office. Variances must be requested in writing by the Dean and must include a full description of the following:

1. an explanation of the business and/or academic circumstances that occasioned the request;
2. the procedures that were followed in lieu of a search, including a summary of what other options were considered but rejected;
3. an explanation of how faculty input was gathered; and
4. a communication plan with faculty if the variance is approved.

The written request for a variance will first be reviewed by a committee of three representatives, one each from the Office of the Provost, IAE, and the Diversity Office. This committee can request additional information from the requestor and is charged with making a recommendation to the Provost about whether the variance is justified. The Provost will make the final decision.
